

New WeezAccess interface: Weezevent's access control management tool is changing

Weezevent's new access control management and monitoring interface is now available online for all event organisers. This functional, practical and aesthetic development will strengthen Weezevent's range of solutions.

The WeezAccess tool allows organisers to manage and monitor their attendees' access rights, before, during and after their events. Whether there are 10, 10,000 or more, and whatever the chosen means of ticket validation (e.g. a control application, paper list, etc.), the online interface allows for simple access control from all types of screens.

New centralised features

The solution has been enhanced with new features and is now more intuitive, while more closely reflecting Weezevent's visual and graphic identity. In just a few clicks, organisers can now monitor attendance in real time; issue, validate and print their access lists; and display attendees' scanning history. A comprehensive dashboard allows you to view and analyse data in order to assess each event and improve future editions.

A free solution for all organisers

The WeezAccess solution is available for free for all event organisers creating a Weezevent account. Please note that events already created with Weezevent will retain all their data following this update.
